From “The Teacher”

Many, many thanks to my students and parents for giving me so much pleasure over these last twelve (has it really been that long?) years. Parents – I am so honored to be able to see your children grow each year, musically – of course, but also physically and emotionally. Surely the greatest joy I have is the satisfaction of seeing the progress these little people make incrementally, only to come out the other side as accomplished “grown-ups” in so many ways. I will remain forever grateful that my musical path has led me to be a part of your lives.
